Abstract

School plays an important role for a student. It has a big influence in terms of the performance of students. It has also a big role for the good future of the students, wherein it molds and develop the special ability of students. However, research shows the preferences of students to study in urban schools than in rural schools. Researchers state that the availability of courses and the quality of education is the main reason why do students prefer to study here in the city. The purpose of this research proposal is to examine what are the preferences of students to study here in the city.
