SOLIS

MARINE CONSULTANTS

Solis Marine is a specialist marine consultancy with offices in London, Singapore and Hong Kong.

Due to continued growth, we are looking to appoint a master mariner with command and/or pilotage experience for our busy London office.

The work is varied, interesting and challenging, involving the investigation of all types of maritime incidents as well as salvage and wreck removal and the preparation of expert reports for litigation. There will also be a requirement to give evidence in Court and Arbitration tribunals. Our clients include international law firms, insurers and ship owners/operators.

As we work in a response environment, there are also occasions when worldwide travel at short notice is necessary.

More information about Solis can be found on our website www.solis-marine.com

All applicants must have the right to work in the UK.

Please send your applications to partners@solis-marine.com
